Revision F · 11 August 2026 · Savannes Bay, Micoud, Saint Lucia

INTRODUCTION

Welcome to SHER

SHER Sanctuary Experiences is creating a conservation-led, low-density collection of tropical residences beside Savannes Bay. The first release strategy now begins with an owner-controlled demonstration cottage on Lot 890: a real, inspectable Cottage A that establishes the standard for design, landscape, construction quality and buyer care.

A refined timber, stone and garden expression of the proposed Cottage A experience. Computer-generated image.

The wider SHER vision may include additional cottages, villas, condominium, hospitality, wellness and nature-based experiences, but each component is phased and remains dependent on land control, professional design, statutory approvals and commercial readiness.

READ FIRST

Lot 890 is no longer presented as the Phase 1 reception/café precinct. The earlier hospitality layout is superseded. Phase 1 is the demonstration-and-sales cottage strategy described in this revision.

THE COLLECTION

La Collection Papiyòt

A controlled architectural family inspired by butterflies recorded in Saint Lucia.

Papiyòt is the Saint Lucian Kwéyòl word used here for butterfly. Each residence carries a permanent butterfly identity, colour story and conservation narrative while remaining part of one controlled SHER architectural family.

PHASE 1

Lot 890: Demonstration Cottage and Capital-Release Site

Lot 890 is the first proof-of-product location because SHER already controls the land. The commercial intent is to build, furnish, landscape and present Cottage No. 1 as the physical standard for the collection, then sell the cottage with an approved portion of land or use a controlled presale/construction structure to release capital.

- One professionally completed Cottage A prototype
- Protected access and utility rights for retained SHER land
- Private, landscape-facing veranda and outdoor shower
- Potential retained parcel for a second product or future capital release
- Discreet road-side arrival and limited parking
- Subdivision, lender consent and statutory approval before sale

CONTROL POINT	No subdivision boundary, cottage allocation, view, access right or saleable area is promised by this package. Those matters must be fixed by survey, lender consent, planning approval and executed sale documents.

DESIGN

The Cottage Experience

Open-plan living with warm timber, screened openings and a direct relationship to the veranda. Computer-generated image.

Cottage A is conceived as a private tropical residence rather than a conventional hotel room. Living, kitchen, bedroom, bathroom, veranda and outdoor shower form a calm sequence shaped by shade, airflow, privacy and landscape connection.

- Signature roof form with deep protective overhangs
- Covered veranda for dining and quiet observation
- Raised construction and a clear underfloor shadow line
- King bedroom suite with integrated storage
- Natural timber, stone and warm neutral materials
- En-suite bathroom and private outdoor shower
- Large screened openings and storm-ready closures
- Concealed services and restrained low-level lighting

LAYOUT

Approved Technical Basis

The current owner-approved Cottage A technical handoff establishes the professional starting point. It identifies an enclosed basis of approximately 32 ft × 28 ft, a covered veranda approximately 28 ft × 10 ft, and a private outdoor shower court approximately 8 ft × 10 ft. Dimensions, areas and interfaces remain subject to consultant verification and statutory approval.

Bedroom-to-veranda experience reference. Computer-generated image; technical drawings govern final geometry.

- Entry foyer and controlled arrival sequence
- Open kitchen and living/lounge zone
- King bedroom suite
- En-suite bathroom
- Private outdoor shower court
- Covered landscape-facing veranda
- Marine-protected steel/timber hybrid basis
- Rainwater, quiet-systems and maintenance coordination

SOURCE OF TRUTH

The SHER Cottage Type A Technical Handoff R01 - Owner Approved is the controlling architectural design handoff for professional development. Renderings govern visual intent only where they agree with approved geometry and specifications.

INTERIOR

Private Suite and Wellness

Bathroom atmosphere reference: timber joinery, stone, controlled daylight and a protected outdoor shower connection.

The bathroom is treated as a private wellness room rather than a service space. Natural materials, screened daylight, concealed storage and a protected outdoor shower are intended to create a generous but practical experience.

Alternative approved experience reference. Final layout, fixture positions and roof geometry are controlled by the technical set.

SETTING

Savannes Bay Orientation

Government mapping and contour extract showing the Savannes Bay context. For orientation only.

SHER lies within the Savannes Bay area on Saint Lucia’s south-east coast, in the Micoud district. The shallow bay, mangrove edge, wetland landscape and Scorpion Islet establish the environmental character that SHER intends to protect and interpret.

VERIFY

Travel times, legal access, boundaries, easements, utilities, coastal rights, environmental limits and permitted uses must be confirmed from current professional and statutory records.

DEVELOPMENT CONTEXT

A Phased Conservation-Led Estate

The estate vision combines low-density residences with nature, wellness and carefully controlled hospitality experiences. RevF does not treat every element of that vision as presently owned, approved, funded or available. It distinguishes the current Phase 1 asset from later possibilities.

ELEMENT	CURRENT BUYER MEANING	STATUS CONTROL
Lot 890	First demonstration cottage and potential capital-release parcel	Owner-controlled; subdivision and development approvals required
Wider cottage collection	Phased future collection	Exact sites and release sequence not yet fixed
Parcel 905	Protected wetland / no-build conservation area	No cottages or built programme to be represented there
Parcel 897 and other lands	Possible future estate components	Dependent on acquisition or enforceable rights
Crown/coastal lands	Potential nature and water experiences	Subject to written authority approvals; excluded from base sale promise
SUPERSEDED	The earlier Lot 890 plan showing reception, café, ten-space parking, kayak operations and support infrastructure is archived as a superseded hospitality concept and is not the current Phase 1 plan.

PROCESS

The Curated Ownership Journey

SHER is not an open, first-money-wins property sale. Financial capacity is necessary but does not create an entitlement to purchase. SHER may decline a prospective owner, subject to applicable law and non-discrimination requirements, where the proposed ownership relationship is not aligned with the sanctuary’s standards.

- 1. Discover Review the setting, Cottage A basis, conservation covenant and ownership expectations.
- 2. Register Interest Record intended use, timing, purchasing entity, funding basis and preferred engagement route.
- 3. SHER Ownership Review A confidential mutual review of readiness, intended use, values alignment and acceptance of estate controls.
- 4. Register of Intent Approved applicants enter the non-binding register in qualification order; no cottage is promised.
- 5. Independent Advice Appoint Saint Lucia-qualified legal and other professional advisers; non-nationals begin licensing review.
- 6. Release and Allocation A specific cottage or approved Lot 890 opportunity is invited when legally and commercially ready.
- 7. Contract and Delivery Complete due diligence, reservation, controlled personalisation, staged construction and inspections.
- 8. Handover and Stewardship Receive keys, warranties, operating rules and the continuing conservation and maintenance obligations.

NO FEE

Registering interest and participating in the preliminary Ownership Review are free and non-binding. No funds are requested before a specific opportunity and its legal documentation are issued.

Ownership by International Buyers

Saint Lucia regulates the acquisition of interests in land by persons who are not nationals. A non-national purchaser may require an Alien Landholding Licence, and a locally incorporated purchasing company may also be assessed by reference to its ownership and control.

What to establish with your Saint Lucia attorney

- Whether your intended individual, company or trust structure requires a licence.
- The documents, references, fees and realistic processing period.
- How the contract deals with licensing conditions, delay or refusal.
- The effect on deposits, long-stop dates, permitted use and land area.
- Taxes, duties, legal costs, inheritance, resale and assignment.

LEGAL ADVICE

SHER does not provide legal or tax advice and does not act for the buyer. Requirements, fees and processing times may change. Obtain independent Saint Lucia-qualified advice before signing or transferring funds.

PAYMENT SECURITY

How Funds Are Controlled

No money is requested merely to register interest or enter the Register of Intent. Once a specific opportunity is released, payment protection comes from the written transaction structure, the identity of the receiving account, the conditions for release and the buyer's independent legal review.

Before any transfer

- Obtain the executed reservation or purchase documentation.
- Confirm the legal name of the receiving account and who controls it.
- Confirm whether funds are held as stakeholder or agent and on what terms.
- Understand milestone releases, refund rights, default remedies and long-stop dates.
- Verify bank instructions independently through a channel you initiated.
- Ensure every payment is receipted and reconciled in the buyer portal.

NEVER

Do not transfer to an account communicated only by email, message or telephone, or to any account different from the one identified in the executed documents.

Landscape and arrival-quality reference. Computer-generated image; not a site allocation plan.

QUESTIONS

Frequently Asked Questions

Are the images final?

No. They communicate owner-approved visual intent. The executed documents, approved drawings and specifications control delivery.

Is Lot 890 still the reception site?

No. The former reception/café concept is superseded. The current Phase 1 intention is a demonstration-and-sales Cottage A, subject to approvals.

Can I buy merely because I have the money?

No. SHER uses a curated Ownership Review. Financial readiness is only one factor, and SHER may decline an application subject to applicable law.

Can I choose a cottage or butterfly?

Preferences may be recorded, but allocation depends on approved release, availability and SHER's controlled collection structure.

Can I change the layout?

Only formally approved options may be offered. Structure, roof, envelope, wet areas, services and statutory interfaces cannot be changed informally.

Can I rely on a map or rendering for my boundary or view?

No. Only the final legal survey, approved site plan, title documents and executed sale documents control.

ASK SHER GUIDE

The portal guide may explain scenarios and point to the correct issued document, but it cannot qualify an owner, reserve property or replace professional advice.
